Dear Bill,

Please accept my appreciation for the assistance your stations and staff provided in preparing for the President's recent trip to the Far East. The weekly updates on the local situation in each country were essential in planning security precautions. Continuous interface with [redacted] and his staff plus periodic analyses by the DDI prior to the President's travel played an important role in our decision making process. We appreciate this service very much and count on such support for future foreign travels.

Sincerely,
